FOREWORD

During 1951, a bond issue was proposed whereby the State Teachers Colleges of New Jersey would receive funds for use in developing adequate facilities. The campaign was supported enthusiastically by the students of College High School.

After the passage of the bond issue, financial assistance was received, and the work of construction was soon begun.

Students and teachers have been eagerly watching the successive stages of construction, since the ground was first broken and excavated, until now, as the buildings are beginning to take final shape.

Concurrently, another type of construction, less apparent, but far more significant, has been going on—the building of mature, self-reliant citizens.

The buildings under construction will soon be completed; however, the building of character and personality upon the strong foundation established during the years at College High will continue indefinitely.

DEDICATION

It is with sincere appreciation and gratitude, that we, the Class of 1956, take this opportunity to express thanks to our parents.

All our lives, but especially during these last six formative years, they have guided and encouraged us. They have aided, not only in the big endeavors, but, in all of the countless minor problems with which we are constantly faced. Our parents have lent their support to class projects and school functions, both individually and through the Parent-Teachers' Association, and we realize that only through their efforts have our activities been so successful. They have given unselfishly of their time for the betterment of College High School and our class. Above all, they have, by their guidance and encouragement, helped us to become better citizens of our school, our communities, and our nation.

We feel privileged, therefore, to dedicate our yearbook, the 1956 La Campanilla, to our parents.
